YEAR IN REVIEW

JULY 1 2022
TO JUNE 30 2023

A message from the Chair of the Board

February 13, 2024

I am thrilled to present the Annual Report (July 2022 – July 2023) for Special Olympics Canada.

We are proud to share the many successes and inspiring stories of the past year for our movement. You will see how Canadians embraced inclusion through awareness initiatives, how our National Team Program excelled on the world stage, how we improved the quality of our grassroots community programs and continued to deepen our commitment to Safe Sport - and so much more.

Thanks to the commitment of our partners, donors, staff and leadership across the country we are able to celebrate a year filled with triumphs, growth and the unwavering spirit of inclusivity that defines our movement.

This year followed a path set by a one-year Strategic Plan developed in working with our National Partner Bain & Co, alongside our 12 Provincial/Territorial Chapters. The plan was built on common pillars for growth and sustainability while Chapters adjusted and aligned to regional trends ensuring our mission remained at the forefront of all initiatives. Adaptability has been the hallmark of our Chapters, showcasing innovative approaches to deliver our programs.

A strategic focus was to ensure the long-term financial health of Special Olympics across Canada and its ability to impact lives for years to come. Whether through the generous support of our individual donors, corporate partners, the Law Enforcement Torch Run, the Government of Canada and major events across the country, we are committed to providing all individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities the opportunity to find belonging, develop skills and experience the transformative power of sport.

This was a year marked with resilience.

While the postponed Special Olympics World Winter Games 2022 were ultimately cancelled due to the pandemic and geopolitical turmoil, we marked the longest serving Special Olympics Team Canada's place in history with the release of the documentary, "Meet the Resilient." At the end of their more than 2-year journey the team attended an in-person Training Camp, bringing together all 161 athletes, coaches and mission staff for the first time. While they may be the only Special Olympics Team Canada to never have their moment on the world stage – the documentary showed the world that resiliency is a muscle they've been training their whole lives.

Special Olympics

In the same year, we saw another Special Olympics Team Canada start and finish their journey – this time with a return to the world stage. 89 athletes from across all 12 Provinces and Territories were named to Special Olympics Team Canada to compete at the Special Olympics World Games Berlin. They brought home 96 medals and helped re-ignite the movement across the country – symbolizing the end to the past few challenging years of suspended programs and rebuilding post-pandemic.

In closing, I extend my deepest gratitude to the Special Olympics community. Together, we have achieved remarkable milestones, and I am confident that our collective dedication will continue to propel us toward even greater heights.

Sincerely,
Charles Bordeleau

Special Olympics Canada Guiding Principles

Our Vision

Our vision is that sport will open hearts & minds towards people with intellectual disabilities & create inclusive communities all across Canada.

Our Mission

Special Olympics Canada is dedicated to enriching the lives of Canadians with intellectual disabilities through sport.

Program Statistics in a Year of Rebuilding

Despite the full reopening of Special Olympics programs across Canada in the past year, the initial registration of active athletes and volunteers at the beginning of the season still reflected the lingering effects of the pandemic. Although slower to return to their programs, the pre-pandemic athlete and volunteer membership continued to stay close to the movement and take the steps to return to active programming, with registrations steadily climbing. Looking ahead, Special Olympics Canada anticipates surpassing pre-pandemic registration numbers for both athletes and volunteers in the 2023-2024 year.

27,110

Active Registered Athletes

Within a pre-pandemic athlete membership of 49,626

15,764

Active Registered Volunteers

Within a pre-pandemic volunteer membership of 22,876

Coaching Education

Special Olympics Canada training programs are designed to ensure that coaches are able to meet the needs of any athlete involved in our organization with both confidence and skill. The National Coaching Certification Program development underwent major revisions and then relaunched to our coaches.

Launched NextGen Coaching Apprentice Program to develop younger coaches & prepare them for coaching opportunities at future National & World Games. By providing each Chapter with 2 quota spots on their Provincial/Territorial Teams set to attend the upcoming National Games in Calgary, we are nurturing our next generation of leaders.

Healthy Athletes

Special Olympics Healthy Athletes initiative is a cornerstone program of our movement, offering health services and education for all Special Olympics athletes. Aiming to revolutionize the way health systems engage with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD). Through a combination of free health screenings, training for healthcare professionals and evaluation of the health status of people with an IDD, this program has been making a significant impact in communities across Canada. Within 2023, 850 Healthy Athletes screenings were performed nationwide.

Volunteer Development

Volunteers serve as the backbone of the Special Olympics movement, ensuring the continuous operation of our activities throughout the year. Recognizing their significance, Special Olympics Canada prioritizes volunteer training to equip them with the necessary skills and knowledge. This commitment led to the recent launch of an updated version of the Special Olympics Canada Volunteer Orientation eLearning program. As part of this initiative, a comprehensive Marketing Toolkit was developed for utilization by all Chapters in the promotion and roll-out of the revamped program.

Athlete Leadership Training

Special Olympics Canada recognized the opportunity for athletes to be better placed in positions of leadership. Therefore, steps were made to have Special Olympics athlete representation in a variety of functions in their communities.

This year, hundreds of individuals participated in Athlete Leadership programming across the country. Notably, 5 athletes were trained as ambassadors and were named to the Special Olympics Canada Winter Games Calgary. This group of athletes continue to successfully engage the community as they attend and speak at awareness events, interview their peer athletes, and enhance partnerships leading up to the Games.

Special Olympics Canada Winter Games Calgary 2024

Special Olympics Canada Winter Games are scheduled to unfold in Calgary, Alberta, from February 27th to March 2nd, 2024. A Games Organizing Committee has been selected and are well underway overseeing all aspects of the event including selection of suitable venues for the 8 sporting competitions set to take place. Additionally, our 12 Provincial/Territorial Chapters have selected their teams and are preparing them to represent their respective regions with pride on the National Stage.

Safe Sport & Special Olympics in Canada

Special Olympics Canada and its 12 Chapters have zero tolerance for misconduct or maltreatment of any individuals affiliated with the movement, and therefore take any situation involving misconduct, discrimination, or maltreatment very seriously.

Our policies are intended to promote a Safe Sport environment in a manner that allows for consistent, immediate, appropriate & meaningful action should any issues arise, and they are also intended to prevent maltreatment through education, and by communicating clear standards of behaviour.

This year Special Olympics Canada focused on the implementation of Safe Sport through the following;

- Strengthening our governance and organizational structures and practices to align with Safe Sport principles and actions
- Extending the reach of our education and training
- Having in place independent, transparent and fair safety mechanisms for those that may need to access the complaint process
- Elevating our minimum standards and continuing to learn, grow and adapt

National Awards Night 2022

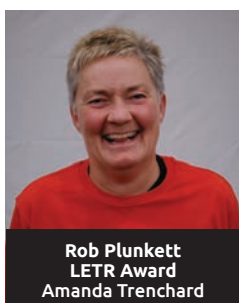

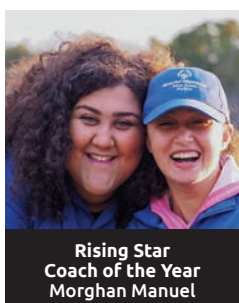

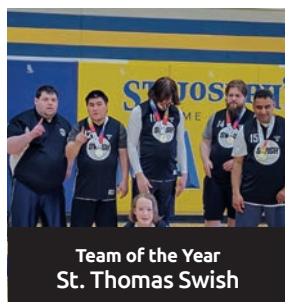

Since 1989, Special Olympics Canada has honoured athletes and volunteers for remarkable achievements that contribute to and strengthen the Special Olympics movement across the country. Each year, achievements are recognized through a National Awards program that includes several distinct categories – athletes, teams, coaches, as well as operational and fundraising volunteers that contribute at both the local and national levels.

For the third year in a row, the Awards Night celebration took place virtually and was co-hosted by TSN's Vic Rauter and Special Olympics New Brunswick athlete, JoJo Landry!

LIMITLESS

LIMITLESS: The Special Olympics Gala

Over 750 Special Olympics Canada supporters gathered at the Fairmont Royal York to celebrate the transformative power of sport and raise critical funds for the movement. Co-presenting sponsors Deloitte and Empire Company Limited continued their generous support of the event. Together, we celebrated the return of in-person programming and competition and heard from Special Olympics athletes and Champions Network members, including keynote speakers, Special Olympics athlete and mother, Francis and Annabel Stanley. The Stanleys shared their personal story of resilience and the impact of Special Olympics on their lives, received with a standing ovation. Thanks to generous supporters, the LIMITLESS Gala raised over $1,450,000 for Special Olympics Canada and athletes across the country. A special thank you to members of the LIMITLESS volunteer committee, for their tireless efforts this year.

Thank you to our National Partners

Our National Partners provide us with the resources to change the lives of thousands of Special Olympics athletes, not only by providing critical funding, but by using their reach and influence to help us raise awareness, promote inclusion and share the transformative power of sport among Canadians with and without intellectual and developmental disabilities. Their financial and in-kind contributions provide essential support that helps us to deliver grassroots sports programs to communities large and small across the country. To all our partners – thank you for your ongoing support, we could not do it without you.

In addition, and through other fundraising opportunities, Wolseley branches and regions across the country provide additional funding for Chapters through fundraising events such as golf events and dinners.

Through motionball's signature events including its galas, motionballU and the Marathon of Sport (where young professionals spend a day playing sports on integrated teams with Special Olympics athletes from their communities), motionball has donated over $17,000,000 net to the movement across Canada since its inception in 2002.

The Law Enforcement Torch Run® for Special Olympics is the largest public awareness vehicle and grassroots fundraiser for Special Olympics globally. What started in 1981 as a flicker of hope has become a roaring flame of stability for Special Olympics athletes worldwide, raising over one billion dollars and changing millions of attitudes along the way.
